

LOGLINES FOR COMPLETED FEATURE SCRIPTS

DRAMAS

1. Yellow Card (satire thriller): When the militant new Surgeon General meets an undervalued super cop, they develop a mandatory nutrition card to get America healthier. But when citizens find ways to cheat the card, the enforcement tactics leave a body count.
2. Eyes of Phoenix (crime drama): In the wake of a rise in kidnappings in Phoenix, a concerned rookie cop is asked to lead an assembly in child safety, so she uses the ghost story of La Llorona as a warning. But, as her legend rises, parents become less cautious with their children prompting the officer to kidnap a child, herself.
3. The Hidden Sun (psychological drama): A year after losing a child, her mother still remains in a catatonic state. So, her husband stages a fake accident with their surviving daughter to snap his wife back to reality, but it backfires when his wife believes that their other daughter is also dead and can no longer see her.

COMEDIES

4. Champions of the Female Experience (fantasy comedy): Goth storyteller Agatha uses her 24 part time jobs to spread fairy tales of the female heroes from Allegoria. When elements from her stories break free and attack Agatha, she flees with her friends hot on her tail to give her a fact vs. fiction intervention.
5. Giving Garry (faith-based comedy): Garry Gillespie is a struggling perfume salesman who commits to the biblical principal to “give to anyone who asks”. He is immediately met with needy people who don’t want anything, a shady con man who never wants anything he asks for and privileged people who want everything he can give them.
